

We have ushered in second semester, and boy, is time flying! Many of our students are getting prepared to present Science Fair projects and soon many will compete at the state level in different organizations' competitions.

I wanted to take a few minutes and let you know about an upcoming EWC Community Education class that is geared for parents of MS/HS students—Social Media for Parents. The class is scheduled on Thursday, January 28th from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the elementary/MS computer lab. Registration can be completed by contacting Brandy Donner of EWC as soon as possible.

The class will bring parents up to speed with various social media apps that students are using and provide statistics regarding their use and also provide some suggestions on guidelines for use. We will take a look at various apps, showing parents how to monitor their child's accounts online and provide parents with strategies to have conversations with their children about online communication, cyber-bullying, and long term implications of social media use.
